Year 8 Sydney Excursion

On Monday 5 November, 19 Year 8 students travelled to Sydney for the Year 8 excursion. We left at approximately 7am, after everyone eventually turned up, and were soon prepared for the long adventure ahead. We arrived in Sydney later that afternoon, had dinner and made our way to the first destination, via train, Circular Quay. Students were amazed by the tunnels we went through, some were scared and some were confused when they saw a house moving in the harbour; it was a ferry. We ate ice-cream and had many attempts at getting some decent photos. Not anyone was successful.

On Tuesday we were up bright and early to go to Taronga Zoo. We caught the train to Circular Quay and got on our first ferry to Taronga. First up was the wild ropes course. Some of us were straight into the activity, going on the tallest courses we possibly could, while others stuck with teachers and tried their best to challenge themselves. We then had two and a half hours to wander around the zoo and look at animals other than emus and roos.

Then our trip to Darling Harbour for the Sydney Aquarium. We met Pig the dugong, went on a “roller coaster” penguin visit and tried to look at some sharks. We spent a lot of money at the souvenir shop and made our way back to the accommodation to have showers and dinner.

After dinner we travelled on the ferry to Manly for the very important ice-cream dessert. We wandered around sight seeing and soon made our way back to our accommodation.

On Wednesday, we went to the Big Dig Archaeology museum to look at some of the oldest house remains in Australia. These remains were dated back to the first settlers of Australia. Then, it was time to catch a bus to the much anticipated SCG visit. We were lucky enough to have a tour through the change rooms, conference room and eventually the indoor nets where we met the best spin-bowler in Australia, Nathan Lyon. Lily was a bit star struck!! We looked at the museum and talked to one of the Australian and NSW blues player, Steve O’Keefe. After this, we headed up to the Sydney Tower. When we made it to the top we were amazed by the clouds. That’s all there were, clouds! If you were lucky you could maybe get a slight glimpse of the great view of the city. Eventually, we made our way back down, spent more money at the souvenir shop and went to China Town for dinner.

We ate pad Thai, honey chicken and some delicious cream puffs. We were soon all tempted to try the bubble tea that Wil had been living on for the past couple of days.

On our final day we went to Cockatoo Island to discover the remains of a convict gaol and sleeping quarters for the red coats (British soldiers). We made our way to our next stop, the Pylon Lookout, where we climbed one of the pylons of the Sydney Harbour Bridge. Many people were stunned by the number of stairs we had to climb. On this day I recorded I walked 24 thousand steps!

Madame Tussaud’s was nearly our last stop of the trip.

This is where we personally met singers, poets and movie stars. We wandered around for an hour and then made our way to the iconic Bondi Beach. It was cold and windy, definitely not the weather we were hoping for.

We walked around the beach, then had fish and chips for dinner.

The long and quiet journey home was all we had left to do. We had the best time, made many more memories and we would like to thank, Mr Coleman, Ms Booth and Miss Hatfield for taking us! Cheers, from Year 8!

Hannah Shea and Lily Masters.
